Mission
To inspire stewardship of the Puget Sound by providing learning opportunities about the environment to the people of our local communities.

Vision
To be a catalyst for environmental education contributing significantly to our community’s understanding of the environment in which we live and our impact on the Puget Sound.

Motto
Learn. Have Fun.
About Us

Harbor WildWatch’s public, youth, member and private programs are fun, interactive, and designed to educate and engage participants in the preservation of our natural marine resources. Our individualized outreach gives citizens, students and visitors the opportunity to examine how their own behaviors impact the environment, gain a sense of place and discover ways to become better stewards.

KGI Watershed

Our programs are primarily delivered in the Key Peninsula - Gig Harbor - Islands (KGI) Watershed - a unique area that covers over 100,000 acres including 179 miles of saltwater shoreline and is home to 70,000 residents. Our goal is to encourage residents and visitors of all ages to get outside and experience the marine environment through our fun and unique experiences.

We are pleased to continue our partnership with the City of Gig Harbor in bringing life back to the Historic Skansie House in Downtown Gig Harbor. Over the past three years, over 15,000 individuals have visited us at the Skansie Visitor & Interpretive Center to observe plankton under the microscope, play in the 3-D sandbox or watch the live underwater camera of Gig Harbor Bay. Join us during our open hours, Wed-Sun (April-September) and Thurs-Sat (October-March) from 10-4pm.
Youth Programs

Our youth programs strive to connect STEM-based learning and ecological stewardship to everyday life. Our goal is to increase academic performance, interest in science, technology, engineering and math and access to community experiences for local students. We do this by offering a variety of unique educational programs that foster a passion for learning and encourage curiosity and critical thinking for kids ages 5-17.

In 2016, we delivered over 400 STEM-based programs to nearly 10,000 students in the community.

The Harbor Outreach Program offers STEM-based workshops to our local K-12 classrooms. Consisting of 20 interactive workshops, this program allows students to explore complex topics such as erosion, tectonics, transference and chemistry through the environmental lens.

The Explorer Series immerses students in the outdoor classroom to get a firsthand perspective of one of three unique habitats – beaches, estuaries and wetlands. In a field trip setting, students are challenged to put their classroom knowledge to work as they observe zonation, predation and adaptation demonstrated right before their eyes!
Youth Programs

seaStars & Beyond is our most intensive program for young nature enthusiasts. Over 11 months, students ages 8-12 explore a variety of environmental topics through monthly workshops—from marine mammal anatomy to ocean acidification. Students also learn to interpret scientific information to the public by volunteering and completing a self-guided service project to benefit the local environment.

Through the Teen Mentor Program, students ages 13-17 have the chance to increase their eco-literacy and gain valuable life skills. They assist with a variety of activities including interpreting to the public and serving as mentors for our younger students. In 2016, our Teen Advisory Board began assisting in the planning process for seaStars & Beyond — providing them with even more opportunities to hone their leadership skills.

The Internship Experience allows current high school, college and recent graduates to gain valuable, real-world experience in the environmental education industry. Interns learn to deliver classroom workshops and field courses as well as assist with marketing, fundraising and administrative activities. Upon completion, our interns have excelled—moving on to full-time positions in the industry or even openings at Harbor WildWatch!
Public Programs

Get You Feet Wet introduces beachgoers to the animals that live in the intertidal zone at our local city, county and state parks each summer. Visitors interact directly with marine invertebrates through guided beach walks or popular touch-tank events led by staff biologists and experienced volunteers. We hope to inspire beach visitors to exercise care while enjoying the wonders of Puget Sound!

In 2016, we delivered nearly 200 quality, interactive programs to over 20,000 adults, kids and families in the community.

Pier Into the Night allows visitors to catch a glimpse into Puget Sound nightlife. Our volunteer SCUBA divers are equipped with an HD video camera and a live feed to the surface—allowing visitors to have a virtual underwater experience! Unique fish, squid and even an octopus are known to make appearances at this winter program.

The Citizen Science Experience allows us to contribute meaningful baseline biodiversity data from our local beaches, estuaries and creeks. With the help of our local and regional partners, regular citizens are trained to monitor water quality, shellfish and other plants and animals. A new protocol to monitor threaten rockfish species was introduced in 2016 with the help of our divers and friends from NOAA.
Our Volunteers

As with many non-profit organizations, Harbor WildWatch relies on our volunteers to help deliver quality environmental education programs to our community. We are lucky to have an incredible group of adults, teens and students who have assisted us in spreading our mission of stewardship for the past 13 years! Without our dedicated volunteers, we would not be able to deliver over 600 programs annually in the South Puget Sound.

Our volunteers are passionate about the Puget Sound. They come from many different backgrounds—some with degrees in marine biology, some with a pure love for the great outdoors, other with a passion for civic engagement.

Whether they grew up on the shores of Puget Sound or relocated from a land-locked state, all of our volunteers share a common idea that education is the key to inspiring personal stewardship for the local environment.

Over 60 volunteers contributed their time and talents in 2016. In total, our volunteers dedicated over 2,000 hours of service!

They have fun engaging with their fellow community members at our local parks, piers and beaches and find it rewarding to share their knowledge on how to protect these creatures and their habitat.

We are so very thankful to the commitment, passion and love for the Puget Sound that exists within our volunteer force!
Residents and visitors have enjoyed our fun, family-friendly programs since 2004, but have long hoped for a way to connect with like-minded individuals on a larger scale. That is now possible with the launch of the Steward Club in June of 2015!

Becoming a member of the Steward Club provides individuals, families and businesses with the opportunity to connect with Harbor WildWatch through an annual financial contribution and a variety of benefits. We are grateful to all those who joined in our inaugural year!

By the Numbers

Harbor WildWatch had an amazing 2016! We debuted the new After School S.T.E.M. Club for middle school students, hosted our first public and student wetland tours and launched our first SCUBA-centered citizen science program to monitor vulnerable rockfish species.

In total, we delivered over 600 quality educational programs to over 30,000 adults, students, families and visitors to the greater Gig Harbor and Key Peninsula communities!

The Board of Directors is dedicated to carrying out the mission and vision of Harbor WildWatch through careful management of the resources of the organization.

In 2016, Harbor WildWatch generated $271,169 in total revenue and expended $230,510. These numbers align with our 5-Year Strategic Plan (2015-2019).

In addition to expanding programs, we are also working to diversify our funding sources in 2017 and beyond. This is being accomplished using several methods including the continued development of a membership program, annual fundraising events, multi-year grant opportunities, and planned giving. In 2016, our Board approved a formal Gift Giving Policy that is available on our website.
2017 & Beyond

On the heels of a successful 2016, we have already had a great start to 2017! The Board of Directors and staff will continue to use our 5-year Strategic Plan as a guide to carefully balance the needs of the community with the organizations resources. Upcoming goals include the addition of a new level of the seaStars & Beyond program for our youngest students and the analysis of citizen science data we have been collecting since 2013.

We are also working to secure our space at the Historic Skansie House for another seven years—allowing us to provide the community with fun, free and educational programs in Downtown Gig Harbor through 2025. We are excited for the upcoming year and hope you will join us at one of our many events!
